Next Thursday afternoon the committee on State Affairs of the Legislature will hear arguments on the woman's suffrage question. It is almost certain that the women will suffer a loss of their pet measure this session. There is no hope that the question will be submitted to the people for several years to come.

The special committee of the Senate and Assembly have reported favorably on the proposition to build an additional asylum for the insane, and adopted this resolution:

Resolved, That, in the judgment of this committee, it is the duty of this State to provide for the humane care of the chronic insane, and to that end, this committee will report a bill requiring the construction, at as early a day as practical, of suitable room for the insane, at the expense of this State.

A few weeks ago John G. Whittier said in a very sad tone: "Once I had no books to read. Now I can not read a tenth part of the books that come to me." Whittier's father owned only twenty books, and now all the publishers in Boston, by an arrangement among themselves, send Mr. Whittier an elegantly bound copy of every new book published in that city that is worth putting in a library.

There has been a surprising increase in the business of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway company during the month of February, 1882, over the corresponding month last year. The earnings for the month just past were a little over $1,379,000, while for the same month in 1881 they were only $673,646. One reason of the great increase is that the roads have been in good running order during the month, while one year ago they were blockaded a great part of the time.

A Washington dispatch says, "there has been considerable opposition worked up in the House to the bill to retire General Grant, and appearances are that the Democrats will ultimately oppose it. There is a good deal of talk of some Republican opposition, but it is thought in some quarters that the course of Democrats in taking stand against it, as if to make it a party measure, will have the effect of uniting the Republicans in its favor. Its passage, however, will be strongly resisted."

The Hon. John Winans is justly complimented by the Madison Democrat, as follows:

One of the ablest and most effective speeches ever made in the Legislature of Wisconsin, was made by Assemblyman John Winans, Thursday morning, on the bill to appropriate to the widow of the murdered Sheriff Coleman $2,000. The bill had been reported from the committee on claims with a recommendation that it be indefinitely postponed, but after the speech of Mr. Winans it was ordered engrossed without scarcely a dissenting vote.

Mr. Winans is the finest speaker in the Legislature, earnest, eloquent, and convincing, as the result of his Thursday's speech abundantly proves.

The Oshkosh Northwestern wants the Legislature to give the Democrats a fair proportion of representation of the State in Congress. Every reasonable paper is in favor of the same thing, and the Republican Legislature will hardly enter into any scheme which will partake of gerrymandering. The Republicans are naturally inclined to be more honest and more generous in this apportionment business than the Democrats would be if they had an overwhelming majority in the Legislature. Fairness and common sense and ordinary honesty would demand that the apportionment be a just one, and if we are not mistaken, the Republicans will give the people just such a redistribution of the State into Congressional districts.

The Milwaukee Republican does not approve of the proposition to build a State library in the Capitol park, and says: "There is a serious objection to the bill now before the Legislature for the erection of a separate building for the State Historical Society library. It proposes that the building shall be located in the Capitol park. The park contains but fourteen acres, and is none too large for the Capitol. Another building in it will destroy its beauty and give it a crowded look. One reason assigned for placing the new building in the park is that it may be heated from the furnaces in the basement of the Capitol, but that is not a sufficient reason. If built in the park it will be placed to front on one of the streets, and the heat could without difficulty be conveyed sixty feet across the street. The building should be erected on a lot fronting the park, and not in the park."

The Milwaukee people seem to be in earnest about the removal of the capital. Of course the Milwaukee delegation will vote for it and will work for its passage, but the scheme will be a dead failure. There would be just as much hope of success for the Madison people to go to work for the removal of Lake Michigan to the capital city, as there would be for the Milwaukeeans to labor for the removal of the State capital. There is not a single substantial reason why Milwaukee should have the capital. Madison is more central, is more easily reached than Milwaukee, and beside that economy would dictate that it would be unwise to abandon the present capital and build another in Milwaukee. One of the clauses in the bill reads as follows: "There is hereby appropriated out of the State treasury, the sum of $500,000 or so much thereof as may be necessary for the purchase of the land and site for the capitol at Milwaukee, the sum of one million dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the erection of the capitol building." The bill also provides that there shall be three commissioners appointed to select a suitable site for the capitol building at Milwaukee, and that they shall receive $5 a day for their services. At first the scheme was regarded as a joke, but the Milwaukee delegation appear to be in earnest. The scheme is as airy as Darius Green's flying machine.

THE ASSASSIN.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—George Scoville has arrived here. He says, according to a local report: "When I complete the record and file the bill I will withdraw from the case."

"Withdraw from the case?"

"Yes."

"And will Mr. Reed remain in it?"

"I have not seen Mr. Reed, but I understand he will withdraw, too."

"Then will Guitau have to argue the case himself?"

"No, I suppose not. He will get some one."

"Mrs. Scoville," said the reporter, suggestively referring to the recently published letter concerning Senator Conkling, "has come prominently into notice during the last few days."

"Yes," replied Mr. Scoville. "I did not see the letter until a friend of mine in New York called my attention to it."

"It has been remarked," said the reporter, "that the letter indicated that you were not at home."

"Yes, that is so," said Mr. Scoville with a smile.

"She gets off her base sometimes," and then the reporter let him go to his dinner, which was waiting for him.

Mr. Scoville visited Guitau at the jail this morning and had a brief conference with him. He stated at the City-Hall that he had given five months of his time exclusively to the Guitau case, and had only received $50. Guitau had to-day promised to give him $100 to-morrow, out of his receipts from autographs and photographs.

John Guitau and the assassin expect to get Gen. B. F. Butler to argue the case in the Court in General Term. The brochure between the Guitaus and Mr. Scoville appears to have grown very wide.

THE CHINESE QUESTION.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The Pacific coast representatives again monopolized the attention of the Senate to-day with a discussion of the Chinese immigration bill. Mr. Farley, who was taken off his feet yesterday by a motion to go into executive session, concluded his remarks an hour after the expiration of the morning hour. Messrs. Ingalls, Hoar, Miller of California, Maxey and others participated in the debate, but did not attract much attention, although there was a pretty good attendance of spectators in the galleries. Mr. Farley's strongest point, the only one that caused a laugh, was when he denounced pig-tailed Chinamen for monopolizing the labor and driving away from homes the servant girls who were entitled to these positions as domestics. Judging from the speed made to-day, it is very probable that two weeks will be consumed in discussing this topic, as nearly every member of the Senate wants to make a speech for the benefit of his constituents at least.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—The Chinese residents of this city are much exercised about the mass meeting to be held here to-morrow. They pretend to feel alarmed lest some excited persons should suggest and offer to lead a raid through Chinatown. Nothing of the kind is probable, nor is it feared or in any measure anticipated by the gentlemen instigating the meeting, nor by the police authorities. The Chinese merchant's held a long conference to-day for the purpose of discussing the question. As a result of the meeting they sent the following dispatch to the Tung Wah Hospital, Hong Kong, which is similar to the Merchants Exchange here:

March 3.—To Tung Wah Hospital, Hong Kong: "There is great excitement here against so many of our countrymen now coming. Use all your power to stop them and save us trouble."

Physicians attest: "GOLDEN'S LIQUID EXTRACT OF BEEF is particularly useful in Diphtheria, Fever, and every depressing disease."

A $5,000 BLOW.

MILWAUKEE, March 3.—Louis Spoehl, in the Circuit Court to-day, got judgment for $5,000 against Policeman Stroslow for striking him with a policeman's club.

FATAL EXPLOSION.

RICHMOND, Ind., March 3.—Five men were instantly killed and two others badly hurt by the explosion of a boiler in a saw mill, belonging to Wesler & Barnes, at Stone Station, four miles north of Winchester, between 7 and 8 o'clock this morning. The mill had been running day and night all winter, but was shut down at 6 o'clock last evening because they could not get men enough to make the relief gang. There was a heavy head of steam on at the time, and the fires were banked up so that the water was kept boiling all night. This morning the doors were opened and the furnaces filled up with shavings and refuse from the lath and saw, so that the pressure was increased to one hundred and ninety pounds.

If the story told by one of the wounded men is correct, the pump had been out of repair, and George W. Wesler, one of the proprietors, was working with it at the time the explosion occurred. The building, a large, rambling, frame structure, which stood on a clearing in the woods half a mile from the depot, was lifted up and fell back in a confused mass of broken and splintered timber. The boiler divided into a dozen pieces, and was thrown in every direction, the largest piece being hurled across the road to a field adjoining Wesler's house, 300 feet away, and the flues taking an opposite course, and dropping in the woods, 600 or 700 feet distant.

POLK WELLS AND HIS GANG.

MADISON, Wis., March 3.—Governor Rusk received a letter to-day from Sheriff Sam Chandler, who, with Sheriff Farrell, of Iowa, recently captured the Missouri train robbers in this State. He believes Polk Wells will die, but says Sheriff Farrell will be all right in a day or two. In searching Wells, Sheriff Chandler found letters indicating that he (Wells), and others, planned a bank robbery in this State. He found letters written at Atchison, Kansas, and other points promising to be with him "by the 25th," and he told the Sheriff it was their intention to rob a bank at Fox Lake.

He had examined it closely. Only one man was generally there, and he had never seen a place better situated to rob. The Sheriff feels quite sure that Wells had gathered quite a number of his gang around him—more than enough to be called into action on short notice—and he thinks it would be wise for all officers in that part of the State to be constantly on the alert, especially in small towns where there are banks.

RESCUED FROM DEATH.

The following statement of William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for it the attention of our readers. He says: "In the fall of 1876, I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs, followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half dollar. I expended over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicines. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of DR. WM. HALL'S BALM FOR THE LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when, to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have for the past three years."

"I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with Disordered Lungs will be induced take DR. WM. HALL'S BALM FOR THE LUNGS, and be convinced that CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED. I have taken two bottles, and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness. My cough has almost entirely disappeared, and I shall soon be able to go to work." Sold by druggists.

MADISON, Wis., March 3.—Gen. Fairchild will sail for Paris about May 1, avowedly to return with his family, but there is good reason to believe that he is a candidate for the Austrian Mission.

CONKLING.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The impression gains ground to-night that Mr. Conkling will decline the nomination to the Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—A friend of ex-Senator Platt, of New York, says Platt told him yesterday, in New York, that Conkling would not accept the Supreme Judgeship; that Conkling had said to Platt that he could not afford to hold that position, as he has $50,000 a year of law practice, which he would have to relinquish if he went on the bench; beside, Conkling added, according to this authority, that he preferred to remain in active politics.

THE CHAPLAIN'S CRUISE.

An interesting letter from the Rev. A. L. Royce, formerly of Janesville. U. S. S. BROOKLYN, MONTVIDEO, URUGUAY, January, 1882.

To the Editors.

Possibly your readers would like to hear from this part of the world, and of the cruise of the "Brooklyn" to this port. Having been ordered to her by the Honorable Secretary of the Navy, on November 23, 1881, I found myself in New York, and at once reported for duty to Rear Admiral Cooper, in command of the yard. I was informed that the Brooklyn would go into commission the next day, but a difficulty about obtaining officers caused a delay of nearly ten days. I found the good old ship had been thoroughly overhauled, (excepting, as we afterwards found out, a few leaks, left for the benefit of the middies who were thus kept out of mischief at the pumps when once we were at sea. She is a single deck, steam sloop of war, 285 feet long, and 43 feet beam, with a tonnage of 2,000 tons. She drags her screw, and has side-keelers supposed to prevent her from rolling—a bad habit of hers in former days. But as she rolled 30 degrees on several occasions in the trip down they have not proved of any advantage so far as I can see. There are other modern improvements of more or less importance in adding comfort to officers and crew. Two large ventilating fan blowers are placed on each side between decks, and when running are supposed to send a strong blast of pure air into the different portions of the ship and each officer's state room. These were put in at great expense, but as we have no donkey engine to drive them, they are worthless unless we are under steam or running the condenser. A better improvement is the placing of electric bells on board; they are very handy to call the boy from Chinatown when you want him to bring you a glass of water, or light your swinging lamp. But when heard at 4 a. m. waking you out of a sound sleep it is not so pleasant. We had hoped to have electric lights on board, but did not succeed in obtaining the necessary authority from the department. We are armed as follows:

Twelve 9-inch broadside guns—useful during the late war but worthless now; one 8-inch muzzle loading rifle, the best we have in the service, mounted forward on pivot. It carries a 180-pound shell. One 60- and two 20-pound breech-loading rifles mounted on the top gallant forecastle. One 3-inch breech-loading rifle, one long Gatling and four Hotchkiss revolving cannon. Our ship is also fitted out with four projecting platforms, one on each corner and two rail posts for the Hotchkiss guns. We also have the regulation torpedo outfit.

We finally went into commission on the 11th of November at 1:20 p. m. Captain Weaver, our commander, formally received the ship from Admiral Cooper by reading his orders to the officers and men assembled in the quarter-deck, the colors and pennants were hoisted while the band played "The Star-spangled Banner." We have 32 officers on board and more than 400 men. Now we are on the Star, the crew consists of 320 men, including the petty officers and marines. They are a fine set of men. Many of them have seen long and faithful service in the navy. Among them are 30 boys from the training ships—the best sailors we have, in fact. Several of these boys are well up in navigation, can take the sun and the stars and could work a ship as well as most captains in the merchant service. On Nov. 28th, our powder was taken on board off Ellis island, after which we went to man-of-war anchorage ground off 23d St. North river. On Dec. 2d, the Board of Inspectors visited us officially, and made a very favorable report, declaring the Brooklyn to be the best fitted out of any ship they had inspected in some time, much better than the Lancaster. At 10:30 a. m. the following Wednesday, December 7th, the pilot came on board and orders were given to get under way and we were soon steaming down the bay to Sandy Hook. The weather not being favorable we came to anchor, but at 4:30 the weather cleared, the anchor was hove on board and we stood out to sea.

The Navy's highlands soon faded from our sight, as we dashed ahead under sail and steam with a fresh breeze from the Northwest, which increased to a moderate gale during the night. We pitched and rolled about in a most uncomfortable manner, but I was more fortunate than a good many of my shipmates, not being seasick. For nearly three weeks we enjoyed this kind of weather, the sea keeping the decks wet constantly. The hatch officers and poor Jack had a tough time of it, many of the latter not having a dry stitch on them during the whole time. Many amusing incidents happened in the ward room. To see your neighbor suddenly slide backwards from the table in his chair, strike the sill of a stateroom doorway, and turn an unwilling hand-spring into the room, was fun for all except the unfortunate individual. But with racks on the table and the chairs lashed we managed to get on after a fashion. Christmas day brought us good weather at last. At 8 o'clock a. m., by permission of Captain Weaver, I held a communion service in the Admiral's cabin, and there in mid-ocean, with thoughts of home and dear ones far away, eight of us joined in that service, which like Him undying, entrances all hearts in one. A service for officers and men followed at the usual hour. Another reminder of the day was a Christmas card placed on each official plate at breakfast. At 4:30 o'clock a swell dinner was given by the wardroom officers to the captain and invited guests from the stateroom.

A smoke and chat in the Captain's cabin ended the day. The next day we struck the trades, and enjoyed the comfort of a steady ship, dry decks, and warm weather. Before leaving the United States I had made an appeal to the public through the press, for reading matter for the men. Through a subscription started on board, I had also been enabled to purchase about 100 volumes of books, the Seaside Friendly Society, had also given us the loan of three of their libraries. All these books had been thrown in bundles and boxes into the Admiral's office in the Spar deck. I had found employment all along everywhere in opening and sorting new stores. Two boys with palm and needle stitched together, with strong twine, the magazines into volumes

On taking account of stock, I found on hand some 500 volumes of books and pamphlets, novels, etc., and several hundred copies of the Sea Side and Franklin Square libraries. A store room was rigged up as a library, and we soon had it in running order with the Schoolmaster as librarian. Jack thoroughly appreciates these gifts, and he is not the only one either, from the Captain down all have had a dab at the library and made selections for their own reading. We made the run from Sandy Hook to the "line" at 30 degrees West longitude in 30 days and 14 hours. How we crossed the line I reserve for another letter.

Very faithfully yours,

A. L. ROYCE.

MR. WILLIAMS' COMMITTEE.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The order of investigation of ministers connected with the affairs of Chili and Peru, and relating to loss of papers and correspondence in the State Department, at the meeting of the House this morning was referred by the Chairman to the whole committee. Subsequently, on motion of Mr. Williams, of Wisconsin, in the House, leave was granted to the committee to sit during the sessions. A special meeting of the committee is called for Monday, at 3 p. m. to commence the investigation, and witnesses have been subpoenaed to attend. Certain clerks in the State Department, having charge of index and entries, have been summoned to this meeting of the committee, with books and papers.

It is intended to make the investigation thorough, and it will be prepared with a view of bringing to light the mystery that surrounds the matter. With the Irish question, the inter-oceanic canal, the Hawaiian treaty, and the German naturalization question, this committee is pressed with business, and holds three sessions a week, and will hereafter hold night sessions. The Senate committee has also organized for investigation of the Chili-Peruvian affairs.

Briefs.

March winds.

The churches will be open to-morrow.

Hon. James Menzies was in the city to-day.

The British Blondes left to-day for Watertown.

The days are eleven hours and thirty-eight minutes in length.

The snow drifts caused a general suspension of business one year ago to-day.

Our streets were full of farmer's teams to-day, notwithstanding the bad roads.

Senator Richardson came down from Madison this morning to spend Sunday at home.

Mr. W. B. Jerome, of the Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, is in the city to-day.

Superintendent M. M. Conant and wife took possession of the county poor farm to-day.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Lawrence, of the Fifth ward, will be buried to-morrow.

The box sheet for "Deacon Crankett" will be opened at Prentice & Evenson's on Monday morning.

Mr. B. F. Schwartz, manager of the Mahu's Comic Opera company, is registered at the Grand hotel.

Mr. A. F. Allen, cashier of the Benton County Bank, (Iowa) was a guest of the Grand hotel last evening.

Clerk of the Court Baldwin busied himself to-day attesting pension papers for the first quarter in 1882.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Hall, are in the city, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Buck, Jackson street, Fourth ward.

The Gazette is in receipt of a letter from the Rev. A. L. Boyce, of the United States Navy, written in South America.

The funeral service of Mrs. L. C. R. Whitall will be held in All Souls church, Monday next at 2:30 p. m., Rev. Jenk. L. Jones officiating.

The sensation of the day is Oscar Wilde, the prototype of Reginald Bunthorne in "Patience." You can see him next Friday evening at the Opera house.

Miss Susie Drake, daughter of Mrs. E. M. Drake, has painted a portrait of a dog, in oil, and has had it finely framed and displayed in one of the windows of Mr. King's bookstore. It is an excellent piece of work and does credit to the artist.

Mr. E. B. Heimstreet requests all that have not sent in receipts and who have blanks for the same, to send them in by Wednesday, as the contract for printing his new Receipt Book has been awarded to the Gazette company, and the work of printing it will commence immediately.

March coal has dropped half a dollar per ton on all grades, chestnut now selling at $9.50 per ton. All the yards have plenty of coal and wood on hand to supply their customers. One year ago coal was a very scarce article in this city, owing to the snow blockades, and our dealers were compelled to deliver a bushel or two at a time, in order to keep the many fires burning until the blockade was raised.

Mr. Thomas Lappin is putting up some very attractive bill boards for the accommodation of the patrons of Lappin's Music Hall. Twenty-two of these boards have been made, and will be put up in the most prominent places in the city, so that all who "can read" the announcement of the entertainments to be given in that hall each one has "Lappin's Music Hall" painted in large letters at the top of the board, and the boards are large enough to accommodate the bills of any hall show, in a legitimate way of advertising.

The Weather.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 35 degrees above zero; and at 1 o'clock this afternoon at 44 degrees above. No report for last year. A terrible storm was raging all day, and railway trains and business generally were suspended.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 3, 1 a. m.—The indications for to-day are as follows:

For the lake region—Increasing cloudiness, followed during the night by light rains, northeast to southeast winds, lower barometer, slight rise in temperature.

Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" is not extolled as a "cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most specific in those chronic weaknesses peculiar to women. Particulars in Dr. Pierce's pamphlet treatise on Diseases peculiar to women, 96 pages, sent for three stamps. Address WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

A Bad Run-Over.

Yesterday afternoon, while some boys were at play on South Main street, the two little sons of Frank Pierson ran under a passing load of hay, taking hold of some projection of the rack for the purpose of having a ride. After riding a short distance in this manner, the elder one of the two let go and came from under the load, and called for his little brother, who is only six years old, to let go and come out. It seems that he had worked his way in front of the hind wheels of the wagon, for when he let go he fell, and the wheels passed over his body at the hips. He was unable to get up or help himself in the least, being so badly injured as to lose the use or control of his lower limbs. His brother took him to the sidewalk and thence to his home, when surgical aid was called. No bones were broken, and although the little sufferer was severely hurt by the heavy load passing over his frail body, he is doing well to-day, and it is hoped that he will soon entirely recover from the injury.

"Accept our Gratitude."

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dear Sir—Your "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured my boy of a fever some of two years' standing. Please accept our gratitude.

Yours truly,

HENRY WHITING, Boston, Mass.

AMUSEMENTS.

AT MYERS OPERA HOUSE.

There was another large audience at the Opera house to greet the Herbert Combination, on the occasion of Mr. Burton's benefit. It was one of the largest as well as one of the finest audiences that had been seen there for a long time. Considering the attractions elsewhere the success of the benefit was remarkable. But Mr. Burton is exceedingly popular in this city where he was raised, and also being an accomplished comedian, his old friends improved the opportunity to show him this substantial mark of respect. There was a double bill given, first the well-known and interesting comedy "Joshua Whitcomb," and then the "Irish Doctor," a piece full of fun and very laughable. Mr. Burton personated Joshua Whitcomb and Mrs. Goodrich that interesting character, "Little Tot." Mr. Burton performed his part well, but his chief triumph of the evening was in the character of O'Callaghan, the Irish doctor. In that he was incomparably fine and gave the audience a lively shaking up. The other parts of both pieces were well sustained. To-night the company will play Frou Frou, in which Mrs. Goodrich will appear in the title role and Mr. Burton as Baron de Cambrie. It is said that Mrs. Goodrich plays her part surprisingly well having studied the part thoroughly from the acting of Sara Bernhardt.

AT LAPPIN'S HALL.

Victoria Loftin's British Blondes, appeared at Lappin's hall last night. The audience was quite large in numbers, about 50 or 60 occupying the parquette, while the gallery was crowded. There were no ladies present. The entertainment consisted of an olio of specialties, songs and dances, and so on, much of which was very low in character. There were five persons in the company on the stage—three women and two men.

AT THE ARMY.

The audience at the Guard's Army was very fair in numbers. The entertainment was a good one and proved a success. On the programme was a piano duet by Miss Jessie Crosby and Mr. Arnold; a reading by Miss Minnie Holdrege, first "Uncle Daniel's Prayer," and on a recall, the "Naughty Girl," a duet by Mrs. C. B. Conrad and Miss Hathe Dearborn, which was loudly applauded; and an Irish song by Mr. Henry Murphy.

PATIENCE.

The greatest burlesque of modern times coupled with the sweetest music, will be the order Friday evening at Myers Opera house, when "Patience" will be given by the Mahu Opera company. This will be one of the finest entertainments of the season.

DEACON CRANKETT.

The above comedy will be given at Myers Opera house on Wednesday evening next, the 8th instant. This popular play is receiving much praise, and the New York Telegram says of it: "The ladies, particularly, rendered a verdict, and it was unqualifiedly in favor of the drama. One would be almost led to believe that the author of 'Helen's Babies' convinced by the success of the pretty novel with the fair sex, appealed to it again for approval. It is an undoubted success and has struck a sympathetic chord."

"BUCURPAIBA."

New, quick, complete cure 4 days, urinary affections, smarting, frequent or difficult urination, kidney diseases. $1 Druggists. Depot, Prentice & Evenson Janesville.

SUICIDE AND DYSPESIA.

A most remarkable cure for dyspepsia "Wells' Health Renewer." The greatest tonic, best bilious and Liver Remedy known. $1. Druggists. Depot, Prentice & Evenson, Janesville.

BORDEN SELLICK & Co., Chicago, sell the best and cheapest Car Starter made. With it one man can move a freight car.

Municipal Court.

In the municipal court to-day, Henry Martin was given sixty days hard labor at the county jail for stealing a coat from R. M. Bostwick.

A tramp, claiming Massachusetts as his home, but who was on his way from St. Paul to Chicago, was brought in and while explaining his case to the judge, he to the surprise of all in the room, happened to "wipe his nose with a clean silk handkerchief." This act won him favor before the court, and he was allowed to continue his journey, the court remarking after the fellow had departed, that a genuine tramp would not use a silk wipe, especially in a court room.

Another fellow, who was not so fastidious, was given twenty days labor at the jail.

The arguments for a new trial in the Penny case will be made on Monday next.
